Tips for writing your nomination

Understand the everyday counts. Has your team developed a workaround for a particular challenge? Utilised a range of tricks to address a sticky situation? Other teams may be wrestling with these same issues. It may seem like business as usual to you but spreading knowledge of these achievements could be a real help to teams in similar circumstances.

You're not too small or too remote for your voice to be heard. Evaluations from past award review committee members tell us they would like to hear from a variety of sources and especially from small, rural, and Northern teams.

Include a variety of voices. AFHTO's focus is on interprofessional primary care so bring a range of experiences and people together when presenting and developing the nomination. Include a patient/caregiver testimonial or experience where appropriate.

Review past award winners. Their innovations run the gamut of topics and types of initiatives. You may see that your team has done something similar or has seen better results. You'll also see how your achievement will be recognized.

When writing your nomination:

- Pick the right category. Category descriptions are very detailed and specific. Make sure reviewers know why your nominations fits the theme.

- Identify WHY your achievement stands out over the rest. Show your evidence and results clearly. Some innovations might not have quantitative evidence, but you need to tell us what has improved as a result AND how other teams can learn from the results.
- Look beyond the stats when demonstrating evidence. Consider your results from the human perspective, not just statistics and measures. What did your initiative DO for your patients, team and/or community?
- Use plain language. Omit flowery speech and state your points clearly.

Do Check In. Not sure if your program or initiative will be a good fit for the conference? Feel free to ask us. We're happy to discuss it with you.

Completing the online nomination form:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/2024brightlightsnominations>

- Review the submission form template before filling out the SurveyMonkey form.
- To avoid the risk of losing information, it is best to enter the nomination all in one session.
- The nomination form must be filled in online and IN FULL.
- Email any supporting data separately to info@afhto.ca.

Nomination Evaluation Criteria:

The review committee will score each nomination on a scale of 1 (Very low) - 5 (Very high) for the extent to which the achievement:

1. Reflects significant achievement within the award category. The innovation may be large or small, but the impact is significant for the patients, community and/or primary care team
2. Exemplifies innovative thinking and leadership
3. Recognizes and addresses the needs of their local population (access or barriers to care, rurality, etc.)
4. Is sustainable with potential for continued improvement
5. Offers significant, useful, and relevant learning opportunities/resources to primary care teams
6. Is being spread and adopted more broadly
7. Is backed up by evidence of impact (e.g., outcome measures, evaluation results, research findings, patient, or community experience)

For nominations to be considered by the review committee, the online form must be completed in full and all supporting materials for evidence of impact sent to info@afhto.ca by July 15, 2024.
