The Annex Clinic for Unattached Patients - Partnering for Patients

The Annex Clinic is a proud collaboration between the Algonquin FHT and the Town of Huntsville that is supported by community organizations and family physicians. The Annex Clinic is a solution to help provide comprehensive primary care to unattached patients. Without access to primary care, these unattached patients will seek care in local emergency departments. Unattached patients often have poorly managed chronic conditions and can be vulnerable and marginalized, needing medical care and social and community supports.
