Oral Health Education Program

Windsor FHT's collaborative partnerships with Windsor Regional Hospital and the House of Sophrosyne have brought an integrated oral health education model into mental health and addiction treatment spaces by delivering individualized education, preventative treatments, oral cancer screenings and addressing basic oral health care needs for vulnerable people. Feedback from the 800+ participants shows a 100% satisfaction rate, all reporting they learned something new. The program empowers patients, who otherwise would not have access to a dental care, with appropriate knowledge to maintain their oral health, making the Oral Health Education Program an outstanding candidate for recognition.
